

Giving with Facebook and Twitter

With HelpAttack!, you can give to your favorite nonprofit each time you update Facebook or Twitter. It's an easy way to be someone who is always giving - a little bit at a time.

It feels good to give $10 to a great cause, and even better to give $100. But does it feel 10 times better? By giving a little bit at a time, you'll always be helping your favorite cause - and feeling good while you do it! It's eawsy to share your pledge with friends and pretty soon, all your friends will be making a difference!

Giving with Facebook

Sign in with Facebook, add the HelpAttack! App, and then we fetch a little content to estimate how active you are. We use that to suggest a pledge, and then voila! You are off and running. Or dancing. You don't need to tag your posts or do anything special - just keep on Facebooking!

There are many different types of Facebook content, but we concentrate on your wall and feed. So, most Likes, Checkins, and status updates will do a little bit of good for your cause. Plus, you can set a limit, so no need to worry about your friends draining your bank account.

Taylor Overstreet

I pledged $0.15 per Facebook update to a great nonprofit. During my pledge, posts on my wall, my likes, photo uploads, and other Facebook activity will add a little bit each time to my donation. It adds up! Join me: <http://bit.ly/IORv20>

Humane Society Of Austin & Travis County

The Austin Humane Society is a community resource that promotes compassion toward...

See more

Pocket changing the world!

16 hours ago via HelpAttack! App · Like · Comment

Katie Kelley, April Kessler, Roni Brown and 10 others like this.

Troy Latiolais Get out there and save those puppies!!!!
16 hours ago · Like

Haley Tollett You are a rock star! :)
16 hours ago · Like

Nancy Lyon wait'll you see all the "thank yous" I'm gonna post once I get all those rewards for voting...you're gonna be broke!
12 hours ago · Like

Taylor Overstreet wow, y'all are aaaaaaawesome! the kitties & puppies thank you! :)
2 hours ago · Like

Write a comment...

Giving with Twitter

Sign in with Twitter, then we fetch a little content to see how active you are. Using that, we'll suggest a pledge amount, and you can set a limit in case things get crazy.

This pledge is similar to the Facebook pledge, except we count your Tweets - everything except Direct Messages. You don't have to tag your Tweets, retweet anyone, or do anything special. Just keep Tweeting!

@HeyAMay

Alice May Berthelsen

I pledged $0.10 a Tweet ($6.90 so far) to @AustinVillages with @helpattack - join me! <http://bit.ly/eWLgDE>

19 Apr via HelpAttack! ☆ Favorite ↻ Retweet ↩ Reply

Mentioned in this Tweet

HelpAttack Help Attack

HelpAttack! is an easy way for people to convert their online activity into donations to nonprofits. Start your pledge today!

AustinVillages 10 Thousand Villages · Follow

Fair Trade, volunteer run retail store featuring sustainable home furnishings, fabulous jewelry and organic edibles from around the world.

It's Easy!

We'll send you a few email updates during your pledge to let you know how it's going. Also, you can donate anytime - when you make your pledge, in the middle or after it is complete.

If you share your pledge, you get credit whenever someone joins you, or makes a donation to your cause. We call it your network effect.

Curious?

Join us at helpattack.com, find a cause, and be someone who's always giving!